

For your reference, the following list offers several options for reporting incidents:

- I. Submit an online report to the university's Office of Diversity and Inclusion (https://www.sc.edu/about/offices_and_divisions/diversity_and_inclusion/report_an_incident/index.php) and/or directly contact the chief diversity officer, John H. Dozier, (jdozier@mailbox.sc.edu);
- II. Contact the Office of Multicultural Student Affairs: (<https://www.sa.sc.edu/omsa/>);
- III. File a formal complaint through the forms available on the Office of Equal Opportunity Programs website:
 - A. students: <http://www.sc.edu/eop/students.shtml>
 - B. faculty and staff: <http://www.sc.edu/eop/facultystaff.shtml>;
- IV. Contact campus police through the Victim Services phone number (803-777-6472) provided by the Division of Law Enforcement and Safety.

We also wanted to call your attention to these additional resources:

- I. The Counseling Center: <https://www.sa.sc.edu/shs/cp/mentalhealth/>;
- II. The guidelines provided by the Office of Diversity and Inclusion for facilitating discussion in the classroom:
https://www.sc.edu/about/offices_and_divisions/diversity_and_inclusion/partner_organizations/faculty_and_staff_groups/facilitating_classroom_discussion/index.php
- III. The Carolinian Creed: <https://www.sa.sc.edu/creed/>;
- IV. The Student Code of Conduct: <http://www.sc.edu/policies/ppm/staf626.pdf>