Undergraduate Medical Education Report Dr. Predrag “PK” Krajacic

- SOMC will participate in the annual Association of American Medical Colleges (AAMC) SCOPE

Survey. First administered in 2023, SCOPE survey is a national questionnaire administered by the AAMC and AACOM. It collects medical education program data regarding curriculum structure, content, organization, process, and evaluation. Data from the Curriculum SCOPE Survey supports the AAMC and AACOM missions and advocacy work, informs medical school strategic plans and evidence-based curriculum decisions, and facilitates scholarship and dissemination. Customized visually benchmarked and analyzable reports are made available to participating medical schools. UME office will coordinate filling out the survey and the submission process.

- Please be on the lookout for requests for information. Intended submission date: Monday, November 11, 2024.

Graduate Medical Education Report – Dr. Chuck Carter

Announcements:

The GME office remains without an office location on campus and some of our staff are in a temporary location in 3 MP pending renovation of the new permanent location in 9 MP. The move date to the permanent location was anticipated to be in late May or early June, but that timeline has been shifted to due to competing projects. The current anticipated date for permanent relocation is undetermined at this point.

Residency/Fellowship expansion proposals remain on hold by Prisma Health, and positions are presently frozen at the current number of trainees as of July 1. Non-ACGME fellowships are still being considered. State level advocacy is ongoing with DHHS. There were funds appropriated to DHHS to support residency training in SC. There is a workgroup developing what a program would look like, but there are limited specifics at this juncture.

Accreditation Activities:

All residency and fellowship programs have submitted their annual updates requesting ongoing accreditation to their respective ACGME review committees.

The OBGYN program in the Midlands underwent a Special Review by the Prisma Health GMEC. The report was approved by the Prisma Health GMEC on August 26. The program is actively implementing the objectives of the Special Review as well as other improvements already underway prior to the Special Review.

The ACGME has issued a draft revision of the Institutional Requirements. These draft revisions will require a substantially greater integration of GME within and commitment by Sponsoring Institutions and clinical learning environments. The draft is currently in the public review and comment period. These can be viewed at this link: <https://www.acgme.org/programs-and-institutions/programs/review-and-comment/>

Faculty Senate Report – Dr. Fiona Hollis

General Faculty Meeting Notes from September 4, 2024

Report from the President:

- The President is excited about the tenure-track faculty hires and looks forward to increasing faculty excellence
- Welcome to the new Dean of the Arnold School of Public Health, Dr. Tara Sabo-Attwood
- Some records were made this year:
 - Students are back on campus. This year, we welcomed 7,250 students – a class size similar to our previous year of 7300, which ensures capacity. This brings us to a record student population of 38,300 students. Next year, the anticipation is that we will hit 40,000 students on campus.

- This year, USC's retention rate of first-year students was 92% - highest
- First year with the university's two new initiatives in place: automatic acceptance of the top 10% of SC high school students and the USC Commitment grant (tuition for top 10% of SC high school students with family income below $80k). An extra 100 students enrolled at USC as a result of this Commitment grant.
- Record research funding: $309 million in sponsored awards -representing a 27% increase from last year, which was also a record funding year.
- Doubled the # of donor financial gifts resulting in named colleges (Molinaroli College of Engineering and Computing is the latest addition) $131 million raised – back to strong pre-2018 levels and gaining momentum needed for a capital campaign.
- Board of Trustees approved the Master Plan in August. Addresses anticipated needs in next 10 years, including the needs of students (housing, study areas, dining, meeting spaces, recreational areas) and academic needs – classrooms, labs, new health sciences campus on Bull St. soon – medical school break ground in Jan 2025 or even end of this year.
- The President took the opportunity to address the controversy surrounding the Roast of Vice President Harris later this month. This event is not endorsed (and is even denounced) by the university. However, the governor has gone on record that the University has the responsibility and no choice but to allow the event to occur to protect 1st amendment rights. Some individuals asked if we could invoke the Carolina Creed as a way to prevent this event from occurring, however the Carolina Creed is an aspiration, not a university policy. And we cannot have a policy that contradicts constitutional law.
